

MAKE YOUR DESTINATION PERFECT FREEDOM

There is no freedom in fear, but we are free to prove to ourselves there is nothing to fear.

This greatest of all journeys begins, and can only begin...with a level of freedom that—once realized—expands itself infinitely...bringing us into the conscious awareness of a perfectly endless freedom. To realize this highest of all destinies begins with this new understanding: the only thing we fear is what we've yet to see, accept, and understand about ourselves.

Until we are free to see ourselves as we are—witnessing without resistance, judgment or condemnation what may be revealed within us—we can never truly be who we are: a Spiritual Crucible wherein the will of earthly and Divine forces meet in order that a new conception might be born of their union.

— Guy Finley