

The Invisible Bridge of Being

All kingdoms, along with their creations—from the starry universe, down to the smallest of all realms—are connected. They are inseparable, just as is the ocean from its currents and the waves they create... including the tiniest droplet of sea-spray that collects on a rocky shore. And the same holds true for all the creatures that inhabit these worlds...

...Where the ever-descending will of the Highest acts upon each successive level just beneath it, so that through their union something new is always coming into existence to span the distance and difference between them...allowing those energies to continue their journey, uninterrupted, into and through each consecutive level below.

Seen as a whole, this celestial relationship represents in effect, an invisible Bridge of Being, and all that exists is sustained by this creative current as it carries out its ceaseless rounds.

The Kingdom of Heaven is realized as we awaken to realize, consciously, that we are not just a specialized link in this Divine Bridge, but that all that it is runs through us; and that the fulfillment of our true purpose on this planet is to play our unique role in its timeless maintenance.
