

The Invisible Wheel of the Opposites

The point where and when we don't see the passage from pleasure to pain

The point where and when we imagine the passage from pain to pleasure

To every action there is an equal and opposite reaction so that any action of identifying with the movement of any thought or feeling creates what we know as "Resistance"