Rebirth and the Remarkable Journey of the Soul

Key Lesson #1: Every movement we make is determined before we are conscious of it; yet, absorbed in the minutia of life, we do not see this. And what is true of our actions is true of our thoughts and emotions as well: we are the manifestation of a Divine, still, and silent Light in timeless motion.

Key Lesson #2: Nothing is born, nothing dies: there is only the opening, and closing...of God's eyes.

Key lesson #3: The seed does not mourn its passing, because it was never meant to remain a seed. And neither are we.

Talk Takeaways

- A profitable human being is one who no longer serves fear.
- Truth comes to show you that you have not been able to change your life because you have been living an imagined life.
- "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise." -- New Testament -- In a true reflection, there is no division.

- "Not my will, but thine, be done." The real Will belongs to the Divine, and our role is to see that it is done within us (the earth).
- The mind doesn't truly and completely understand anything. The mind puts together what it needs to in order to make it FEEL like it understands.
- Everything in life seems to be moving randomly. But nothing in nature happens randomly.
- We love nature because when we observe it we are looking in a mirror that we are not judging for a moment, and therefore we get to experience what we are looking at.
- We believe that we are the chooser of our actions, but presently we are prompted to move before we are aware of it.
- "He whose mind is deluded by ego thinks, 'I am the doer.'" -- Bhagavad Gita
- Things that seem to appear and then disappear are simply changing forms. A seed gives up its life in order to fulfill its purpose. We are intended to do the same in order to fulfill our purpose.
- The nature that judges believes that it is the doer, and that it is superior to others who are not doing things properly.
- What we call our experience is what thought tells us has happened. Thought is an effect of experience. Thought can't truly and completely know what has happened.
- The instant that you believe that you are the doer, you step out of harmony with the Will of the Father, with Life. When you SEE, you don't have to try to DO.
- The light that reveals does not condemn. It calls us to leave behind what has been revealed.
- The seed is made to work for nature. We are made to work for a spiritual nature.
- What would it be like to have a life that you did not have to control?
- "The Master allows things to happen. She shapes events as they come. She steps out of the way and lets the Tao speak for itself." Lau Tzu, Tao Te Ching

- To not be the doer is a new kind of state in which a person is actively passive, like a flower that waits to receive everything that it needs to live.
- Every moment is part of a greater story acting upon a smaller one.
- You are not meant to know. You are meant to be. If you have no conclusions, you have no fear. Real life has no conclusions.
