

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 2023

Open Yourself to Heaven's Endless Messages

Key Lesson: Our great hope dwells within whatever supports, strengthens, or sustains our love of truth, where much as candle light banishes any shadow before it - revealing its nothingness - so a living faith reveals that hiding just within any dark moment is a light that it knows not.

Special Writing: "Message Catchers"

https://gfmisc.s3.amazonaws.com/20230325_specialwriting.pdf

Talk Takeaways

- It requires faith to change what we give our attention to.
- Faith in its earliest form is awareness of another order of being and therefore another order of time.
- That which you seek already exists within you, and can only be realized through your attention, so that you might enter into relationship with higher principles.
- Everything that seems to obscure the way is part of the way, but only if you stand there long enough to realize that what you call "you" is the obstacle you encounter.

- The basis of humanity's everyday experience involves adding something to ourselves and/or avoiding something. We do not need to add one thing to our lives when we are in proper relationship with Life.
- We think we are going to rescue ourselves. We are handed a rescuing plan anytime there is a problem, a difficulty, a challenge.
- Spiritually speaking, in direct proportion that you give something, you are given something back in return.
- I am drawn to what I want to know, and the more I attend to what I want to know, the more knowledge I am given.
- The true message you need to hear is not in thought. The true message is an impression.
- The great message is: "I am here. I have always been here. Wait and be still to hear My messages."
- Leave the impression alone. Don't talk to yourself about the impression. More precisely, watch the mind wanting to talk to itself about the impression. The impression produces its own right action that will reveal itself if we will be attentive.
- Whatever we do that is true, is true for everyone. Whatever we do that is false, is false for everyone.
- Live more and more with what is, rather than living from what the lower level of consciousness wants.