Enroll in the Finishing School Called Life and Set Yourself Free

First Key Lesson: There is a big difference between making a mistake, and thinking of oneself as being a mistake; any compulsive wish to be seen as perfect in the eyes of the world is a punishment that can never be a part of true peace and contentment.

Second Key Lesson: You'll know you are approaching the true meaning of what it means to be yourself when every moment, regardless its nature, enhances your love of life; and where no moment, regardless its nature, has the power to diminish your faith that all things good come to those for whom the Good is all things.

Talk Takeaways

- Everything you need to know is shown to you each moment you are in, and it can't be separated from the consciousness that is revealing it.
- We are on this planet because we have business to do in both this world and the higher world.
- Before it's possible for a human being to be themselves, they're going to have to discover what they actually are.

- We have no awareness that if we weren't given the life we have, we wouldn't have a life at all.
- Nothing changes unless you begin to realize, based on your day to day experiences, that despite all you do to take care of the business of your life, you are still a wreck.
- We are created to be about our Father's business.
- New Testament – Luke 2: When they did not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking Him. Now so it was that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both listening to them and asking them questions. And all who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers. So when they saw Him, they were amazed; and His mother said to Him, "Son, why have You done this to us? Look, Your father and I have sought You anxiously." And He said to them, "Why did you seek Me? Did you not know that I must be about My Father's business?"
- Nobody but you can complete the business of the moment that is being asked of you to tend to.
- An epiphany is the gathering and marriage of everything in the moment so that the relationship is greater than the sum of the parts in the moment.
- Real wisdom is not what you know, but an understanding that you are meant to be the instrument of wisdom, so that a natural intelligence enters into you and connects you to what is needed in order to finish the moment.
- "Finished" doesn't mean done with one and for all. It is a ceaseless relationship in which the moment of request (active) intersects with what it is interacting with (passive), creating something out of the marriage that brings it into the whole of the moment (reconciliation).
- Love is the moment in which, through a union, something new is created.
- The journey to the kingdom of heaven begins with a single step, which is taken over and over again.

- The business of NOW cannot be separated from the need of NOW.
- Karma isn't good or bad, it is justice.
- "To agree to be all I'm given to see and, thus completed, set free."
- When you really finish a moment, you are reborn in that moment as well.
- Human consciousness is unfinished business; and yet, by its very existence, it belongs to a higher order of being, and through that relationship can know how it can be completed and thus reborn.
- Our mind sees us passing through time, and the time we think we're passing through can't be separated from what we hope to pass into in order to know contentment and peace. But you are not passing through time – time is passing through you.
- Our mind, as it is conditioned to be, cannot fathom the fact that there is an entirely different order of being.
- One day it will be your greatest pleasure to have one need, one thing to do, and one thing to finish.
