Realize Your Relationship with the Vine of Divine Life and Be Set Free

Key Lesson: Anytime we feel a need to stand in the healing light of the Divine - and act to honor that wish - we are shown a truth that not only sets us on the path back Home, but that serves to guide us the whole way: we have never been outside of the light of God.

Talk Takeaways

- Every question we ask about how to approach the Divine creates a distance between us, and the very thing that we seek.
- Trying to be like anyone else never produces a change in the consciousness that is seeking to be something.
- No description of any principle is the same as the principle being described.
- The power of any principle does not exist apart from the relationship that the principle is a part of.
- Presently we believe that the branch is not connected to the Vine. In reality, the branch and the Vine are a singularity.
- It is the requirement of a divided mind to always be seeking for what it does not have that it imagines it needs. It must keep itself apart so that it can have something to do with itself. Everything about our lives now perceives the branch as being separate from the Vine.

- We are created to participate in the relationship with the Vine that we are already within all the time.
- The illusion of resistance is that you are not -- separate from -- what you resist.
- Hell is the idea that you need more time to get to where you need to go in order to become what you want to become.
- The branch does not need to seek the Vine because it is already connected, and so there is no need for the branch to become anything. There is nothing that the branch needs to do in order to be fruitful.
- The idea of a past and a future does not exist without a fearful nature that avoids what is.
- The nature that imagines what it needs in order to become something then turns around and does not want what it has imagined.
- The whole idea of calling upon God to save you comes to an end as you stop imagining yourself as being apart from God's life.
- There is a natural movement back and forth between the opposites, which do not exist without each other.
- We never properly witness the movement of anything. Instead, we are always the thing trying to move something.
- You are not stuck in-between these opposites of "sore" and "soaring"... You are stuck outside of them... trying to reconcile them by identifying with one or the other.
